

ACCC Tag Lines

The Association of Canadian Community Colleges (ACCC) is the national voice of Canada's colleges and institutes. By advocating for the needs of 150 colleges and institutes with campuses in 1,000 communities, the Association amplifies the voice of [name of college], its students and its community. In allocating funds from the Knowledge Infrastructure Program to [name of college], the federal government has not only recognized the key role of [name of college] in the provision of advanced skills, but also the role of ACCC in promoting federal policy-making that can support Canada's colleges and institutes in applied research and innovation, advanced skills, and social and economic development.

[Name of college] is a member of the Association of Canadian Community Colleges, which advocates nationally on behalf of 150 colleges and institutes from across the country. As a participant in a system that produces the advanced skills and innovative research and development needed by Canadian employers and communities, [name of college] welcomes the Knowledge Infrastructure Program's acknowledgement of the key role of colleges and institutes in Canada's social and economic development.

[Name of college] is a member of the Association of Canadian Community Colleges (ACCC), which is the national voice of Canada's 150 colleges, institutes, polytechnics, and cégeps. As ACCC continues to advocate for recognition of the essential role of these institutions in the production of Canada's advanced skills and applied research and development, [name of college] welcomes funds from the Knowledge Infrastructure Program as a welcome step towards the full inclusion of colleges and institutes in federal government policy-making and budgetary allocations.