

Francophone Symposium on Colleges and Institutes Serving Rural and Remote Communities

February 24 - 26, 2004
Delta Hotel and Conference Centre
Trois Rivières, Québec

Presented by the Association of Canadian Community Colleges, the Francophone symposium on colleges and institutes serving rural and remote communities will bring together representatives of colleges and institutes in Trois-Rivières to examine strategies for maintaining and developing services for rural and remote communities.

The numerous rural and remote communities in Canada face an ever-changing environment that includes the challenges of population loss to urban centres, developing a skilled work force to attract business and industry, and the inclusion of new immigrants as well as Aboriginal and First Nations groups in the post-secondary education and training system.

To meet these challenges and improve the quality of life of Canadian citizens, strategies will be explored under the following themes:

- ◆ funding arrangements in colleges and institutes
- ◆ support for local and regional development
- ◆ college and institute specialization and agreements with other institutions of higher learning
- ◆ networking with other educational institutions

The symposium will begin with registration at 2:15 p.m. on Tuesday, February 24 and end at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 26.
