

COLLEGES & INSTITUTES

CANADA'S INVESTMENT FOR COMMUNITY ECONOMIC & SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

With locations in over 900 communities throughout the country, Canada's colleges and institutes are widely accessible and well placed to support community economic, social and cultural development. Colleges and institutes have the coverage, capacity and mandate to work strategically with a variety of partners to ensure that Canada has a healthy, vibrant and progressive economy. Our institutions offer a variety of successful programs and services including:

- Post-Secondary Academic, Applied Degree, University Transfer, Professional Certification and Apprenticeship Programs
- Skills Development and Upgrading
- Strengthening Community Capacity Building and Leadership
- Applied Research, Prototyping, Product Development, Commercialization and Technology Diffusion
- Adult Basic Education
- Public and Private Sector Partnerships and Strategic Alliances
- Rural and Remote Community Development
- Education - Industry Linkages
- New Learning Technologies
- International Export of Educational Services
- Joint Ventures with Industry in all Sectors
- Collaboration with Human Resource Sector Councils
- Small and Medium Enterprise Development
- Educational Policy Design/Infrastructure

The Association of Canadian Community Colleges (ACCC) is the national membership organization which links Canada's 150 post-secondary colleges, institutes, cégeps and university-colleges and represents them nationally and internationally.

As a membership association, ACCC has access to a network of over 60,000 professionals and 900 college campuses. As such, the Association is a cost-effective means of utilizing Canada's vast college resources.
